

What happens to treated wastewater?

After treatment, wastewater is returned to the natural environment. Investigate the different ways of using or disposing of this treated wastewater. List advantages and disadvantages of each option and decide which is the best option.

