Backflow Testers Program

The Water Corporation's (Corporation) Backflow Testers Program involves appropriately qualified plumbers and plumbing businesses who engage appropriately qualified plumbers to register with the Corporation so that they can submit backflow tests via the Corporation's website. The Corporation will publish and maintain a list of registered plumbers on its website, enabling its customers to search for registered plumbers who can test backflow devices.

If your business would like to participate in this program please separately complete and return the Business Registration Form. Participation is subject to terms and conditions as indicated on the registration form.

Your use of the Corporation's online Backflow Test Reporting System and access to Water Corporation systems is subject to the specific terms and conditions and the Water Corporation's Electronic Business Conditions of Use for ongoing use of this web application and any other related Water Corporation terms, conditions and policies that may apply from time to time including any that we notify to you via this website or service.
